

1

The best thing about North-ern Territory, a rooftop bar in Greenpoint, is its view: that glittery Manhattan vista across the river. But its Australian beers and bar bites are a close second. G'day, indeed. northernterritorybk.com, 12 Franklin Street, 347.689.4065

LIC Bar is free of elaborately named cocktails and eye-rolling bartenders. Instead, there's a shaded backyard with big tables and a full bar. Bands perform every Sunday through September, but there's never a cover at this #chillsituation. licbar.com, 45-58 Vernon Blvd, 718.786.5400

2

Pretend the Hudson is the Gulf of Mexico at Cantina Rooftop, a new Hell's Kitchen bar featuring a margarita-based cocktail menu, extensive tequila list, and modern Mexican cuisine. cantinarooftop.com, 605 West 48th Street, 212.957.1700

3

Two words that'll convince you to brave the crowds at this Tribeca spot: prosecco pops. Loopy Doopy Rooftop Bar serves 'em in fancy flavors, and offers views of the New York Harbor atop the Conrad Hotel. conradnewyork.com/loopydoopy, 102 North End Avenue, 212.945.0100

GET OUT & DRINK

Remember February? Think on that, really picture it, and then get to any of these perfect spots for outdoor sipping. By Celia Shatzman

4

7

Life is great when you're drinking on a boat in the sunshine. So climb aboard the Grand Banks, a seasonal, always-anchored oyster bar on a 142-foot schooner serving up small plates and nautical-themed cocktails above the Hudson's gentle bob. grandbanks.org, Pier 25, Hudson River Park, 212.960.3390

Bohemian Bar and Beer Garden feels like a friendly, sloshing block party, with plenty of beer, greasy Czech food, and folks and families from all over the five boroughs milling about a massive courtyard. (Unsurprisingly, our awesome cover star loves this place—see page 40.) bohemianhall.com, 2919 24th Avenue, 718.274.4925

5

Bring the hardcore ale snob in your life to Spuyten Duyvil. The Williamsburg beer garden serves rare craft brews, with the draft menu changing daily and casks alternating frequently, too. spuytenduyvilnyc.com, 359 Metropolitan Avenue, 718.963.4140

FROM TOP: COURTESY OF COMPANIES (2); VILDANA KURTOVIC