

Northern Exposure

Steal winterproof tips from the pros to stay glam all season long

Once your holiday glow wears off, the realities of winter skin sink in. With the dryness, cold and wind, the season can wreak havoc on your hair and complexion. But a few starlets prove it doesn't have to be that way. Celeb beauty pros explain how to get these looks at home. — Celia Shatzman

MAINTAIN NATURAL, GORGEOUS LIPS

Anna Faris, Mom

"'No-makeup' makeup is a superhot trend right now," says celebrity makeup artist Joanna Schlip, who works with Laura Linney, Sophia Bush and Jessica Simpson. First, look at your mouth bare. If you have naturally cherry-hued lips that look like they have a stain on them, you need to get a neutral base first. Apply a light coat of foundation, such as Laura Mercier Tinted Moisturizer [1] or Physicians Formula Super BB Cream [2]. Then use a nude liner, like Urban Decay 24/7 Glide-On Lip Pencil [3] in Naked. Next, add a heavily pigmented nude gloss; try MAC Lipglass [4] in Revealing. Keep the rest of the face soft; add just a simple glow to cheeks with Nars Orgasm Blush [5].

PROTECT SHINY, WAVY STRANDS

Maggie Q, Stalker

"My clients are constantly requesting loose waves to complement their red-carpet looks, and we're seeing this style as a huge trend both on and off the runways," says Dove celebrity stylist Mark Townsend, who counts Mary-Kate and Ashley Olsen, Reese Witherspoon and Jennifer Lawrence among his many A-list regulars. To achieve loose waves at home, prep hair by washing with Dove Pure Care Dry Oil shampoo and conditioner [6]. Next, apply Dove Oxygen Moisture Leave-In Foam from root to ends to give the strands body and shine. Using a large, round brush, blow-dry in 4- to 5-inch sections. When hair is dry, take a large-barrel curling iron and wrap 4-inch sections around the iron. "Don't open the iron and clamp the hair inside," Townsend advises. "Wrap the hair away from the face—this opens up the face and is flattering for everyone." To give hair great texture and shine, put a few drops of Dove Pure Care Dry Oil in your hands and pull them through the waves.

ENHANCE KILLER CHEEKBONES

Katharine McPhee, Scorpion

"There are three things going on with those cheekbones: color, contour and highlight," Schlip says. To contour, suck in your cheeks. Then, sweep a matte bronzer like Benefit's Hoola [7] in the hollow underneath the cheekbones. Next, apply color on the apples of your cheeks by swirling it on. A peach or pink hue is best; try Nars Blush [8] in Luster. Finally, place highlighter on top of the cheekbones. "Look for one that glows—you don't want sparkle," says Schlip. Keep the rest of your makeup fresh and light.

FARIS: D. LONG/GLOBE PHOTOS/IMAGECOLLECT; MAGGIE Q: MARCUS OWEN/STARTRAKSPHOTO.COM; MCPHEE: F. SADDU/ANDREW JAMES/COLLECT